

COOKIE POLICY

Last updated: September 2026

1. General Information

The website of ElevateFirst Sports Management (hereinafter, “ElevateFirst”) uses cookies and similar technologies to ensure the proper functioning of the website, improve users’ browsing experience and, where applicable, obtain statistical information about the use of the website.

This Cookie Policy aims to provide clear and transparent information about what cookies are, the types of cookies that may be used on this website, their purposes, and how users can manage or reject them.

2. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small files that are downloaded and stored on a user’s device when they visit certain websites.

These technologies make it possible, among other things, to remember information about browsing habits, recognise certain user preferences, facilitate the proper functioning of the website, and obtain statistical information about its use.

Cookies do not damage the user’s device.

3. Types of Cookies

Depending on their purpose, this website may use the following categories of cookies:

Technical or Necessary Cookies

These cookies are necessary for the basic functioning of the website and enable users to browse the website and use its different features.

These cookies may be installed without obtaining the user’s prior consent when they are strictly necessary to provide the service requested by the user.

Preference or Personalisation Cookies

These cookies make it possible to remember certain information so that users can access the website with features that may differentiate their experience from that of other users, such as certain browsing or configuration preferences.

Analytics or Measurement Cookies

These cookies make it possible to analyse users' behaviour on the website and obtain statistical information about its use.

The information obtained through these cookies may be used, for example, to understand which sections receive the most visits or how users interact with the website, with the aim of improving its functionality and content.

Advertising Cookies

These cookies make it possible to manage, as effectively as possible, any advertising spaces that may be included on the website.

Behavioural Advertising Cookies

These cookies may store information about users' behaviour obtained through continuous observation of their browsing habits, allowing a specific profile to be created in order to display advertising based on their interests.

ElevateFirst will only use cookies that require consent when the user has previously accepted them through the cookie management system available on the website.

4. First-Party and Third-Party Cookies

The cookies used on this website may be:

First-party cookies: Cookies managed directly from the ElevateFirst domain.

Third-party cookies: Cookies managed by external providers whose services may be integrated into the website, such as analytics tools, multimedia content, social networks or other technological services.

The use of external services may involve cookies managed directly by such third parties in accordance with their respective privacy and cookie policies.

5. Cookies Used on This Website

The website may use technical cookies necessary for its proper functioning and, depending on the services enabled, additional analytics, personalisation or third-party cookies.

The specific list of cookies used, including their name, provider, purpose and duration, may be consulted through the cookie settings panel available on the website.

ElevateFirst will endeavour to keep this information up to date as services used on the website are added, removed or modified.

6. Consent and Cookie Settings

When accessing the website for the first time, users may see a notice or settings panel through which they can:

- Accept cookies.
- Reject cookies that are not necessary.
- Configure their preferences by category.

Cookies requiring consent will not be installed until the user has given their consent through an affirmative action.

Users may subsequently modify or withdraw their consent through the cookie settings system available on the website.

Withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before such withdrawal.

7. How to Delete or Block Cookies

In addition to the settings panel available on the website, users may allow, block or delete cookies installed on their device through the settings of the browser they use.

Disabling certain cookies may cause some website features to function incorrectly or become unavailable.

The specific procedure for managing cookies will depend on the browser and device used by the user.

8. International Data Transfers

Certain external providers used by the website may process information from countries located outside the European Economic Area.

Where such transfers involve the processing of personal data, they will be carried out in accordance with the safeguards and mechanisms established under applicable data protection legislation.

For more detailed information about processing carried out by external providers, users may consult the respective privacy and cookie policies of those providers.

9. Personal Data Protection

Where the use of cookies involves the processing of personal data, such processing will be carried out in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information about how ElevateFirst processes personal data, users may consult the Privacy Policy available on this website.

10. Changes to the Cookie Policy

ElevateFirst reserves the right to modify this Cookie Policy whenever necessary to adapt it to legislative changes, criteria issued by competent authorities, technical modifications to the website or the incorporation of new services.

Where significant changes are made, the date indicated at the beginning of this Cookie Policy will be updated.

Users are advised to review this page periodically to stay informed about any changes.

11. Contact
